

12 Step Family Guide To A Green Earth

Whenever something begins to create a stir in the world it always appears to come out in sketchy facts. First there was the big stir about air pollution, then there was the concern about the harmful effects that our food was being subjected to. From there concern for the environment just continued to expand. This is a good thing. At the same time though it can be seen as being such a horrendous topic, that a single individual feels that there is nothing they could do to have any impact on the global situation whatsoever. So, coming to the realization that there just may be things that you can do to help do your part in the preservation in this great world of ours it has to start within the home. In any event, not only is going green beneficial to the world in general, but it is going to make a much safer home environment for you and your family. No one really knows what is lurking behind those walls of ours, unless you have bought a green home. Its true not everybody has a budget to totally tear down their home and restart, but there is lots that can be done on a very limited budget. Well we hope this book is going to change the way you think and while you are doing it you are going to have some good family fun. At the end of this book you are going to be amazed at just how much impact you really can have and accomplished by following 12 easy steps.
