

Redirect Kids for Success, Prison Prevention

What It Is This book is a collage of quotes, activities and how to lessons that represents eighteen (18) months of combined learning between one teacher and 12 inmates. It is based on the original 4 volumes of Self-Help Skills for Kids written by the same author. This material is aimed at several audiences: It is intended to be a working curriculum for at risk kids. It is the result of inmates who want to share their experiences in hopes of helping others. It is designed for: 1. Young people; ages 14-18 2. Anyone attempting to rebuild their life from the bottom up. 3. Those whose lives are void of hope and self-appreciation. Getting safe, means knowing how it feels to be safe. I hope this book for at risk kids, is a starting point for knowing how that feels.
